

Practice Profile

A resolute and skilled advocate with the advantage of a breadth of experience across the full spectrum of serious and complex crime. Pauline's affable demeanour quickly inspires the confidence of her clients and belies a steely determination to neutralise the opposition case.

A highly regarded senior junior, Pauline is instructed in multi-handed allegations of serious and fatal violence, firearms, drug offences, financial crime and historic sex. These instructions cover both substantive offences and conspiracies, and are often connected to gang feuds. Pauline enjoys the analysis of evidence, uncovering those small details hidden amongst swathes of material, which alter the perception of a case.

Holding the firm belief that the art of advocacy is enhanced with experience of both prosecution and defence work, Pauline lends her skills to both ends of counsel's row.

Consumer Law & Financial Crime

In 2012 Pauline was instructed to prosecute Operation Beke, where she lead Fiona Ryan at the Old Bailey in the successful prosecution of five defendants, charged with Fraudulent Trading, who had banked £1million from a series of phoenix companies purporting to offer LGV training.

Pauline is now instructed by a number of local authorities in London and the South-East to advise pre-charge, and prosecute, regulatory offences and financial crime. This encompasses a wide remit of consumer law related issues, including unfair, misleading and aggressive trading practices, product safety, enforcement action under Part 8 of the Enterprise Act 2002, applications for restraint orders under POCA 2002 and drafting Criminal Behaviour Orders.

Pauline also provides investigative training to TSO's.

Many of the cases Pauline is instructed in are supported by the National Trading Standards Tri Region Investigation Team (TRIT) and following the successful prosecution in 2015 of Operation Rose, a wine fraud, at the Old Bailey, Pauline was invited to address Trading Standards Heads of Service and Senior Operational Managers responsible for large scale criminal prosecutions at the annual TRIT training days in 2016 and 2017.
