

Practice Profile

Jack Triggs is instructed in the full spectrum of criminal work that comes before our Courts and in Family cases involving Children. He is known for his thorough case preparation, can do attitude and first class advocacy.

Jack has regularly appeared as junior counsel in complex cases involving care proceedings and criminal cases involving trading standards. Prior to commencing his career at the bar Jack worked as a Coroner's Officer, with responsibility for the investigation and preparation of inquests into deaths occurring within complex medical situations and in custody.

After obtaining an LLB from University College London, Jack completed his BPTC at BPP Law School, Holborn.

Jack's Privacy Policy can be downloaded here.

Areas of Practice

- General Crime
- Family
- Inquests

News

Jack Triggs Appointed Deputy District Judge

4 March 2024

Chambers is delighted to announce that Jack Triggs has been appointed Deputy District Judge in the Magistrates Court.

Jack was called to the Bar in 2014 and has regularly appeared as junior counsel in complex cases involving care proceedings and criminal cases involving trading standards. Prior to commencing his career at the bar Jack worked as a Coroner's Officer, with responsibility for the investigation and preparation of inquests into deaths occurring within complex medical situations and in custody.

Recent Cases